District 11 Meet the Candidate Week 19: What will you do, as district supervisor, to support multi-generational households in District 11?

Many families in District 11 share experiences like mine. My parents purchased our home in the 70s, and now I live in the same house with my two-year-old daughter and my parents. Like many in our community, my responsibilities changed and has made me the primary caregiver for them as their in-home support services provider and now also a proud union member of SEIU 2015.

With 67 percent of District 11 being homeowners, supporting legislation for the expansion of ADUs is necessary. ADUs add to our housing stock and would decrease the housing shortage we are currently facing. As we inherit our homes, many of us find ourselves house-rich but cash-poor. We need tools for creating living trusts, homeownership education, and estate planning to prevent homes from going through probate or being sold, which can reduce property wealth for families and aging adults. Supporting multigenerational working-class households with these resources is crucial for maintaining homeownership and financial stability within the district and enhancing our district's vibrancy as one of the last working class districts in San Francisco.
