Meet the candidate Week 22: What do you plan to do to activate the Persia Triangle as district supervisor?

As the District Supervisor, I plan to activate the Persia Triangle by turning it into a vibrant community hub.

This transformation could involve adding public art representative of our district's diverse culture, arranging events to honor our heritage, and promoting togetherness and pride. The space should be used for night markets, farmers markets, and monthly resource fairs in collaboration with community and faith-based organizations in District 11. This will ensure that valuable activities and resources are accessible to all residents with language support.

Each of these activities will create a lively atmosphere and improve the area's appeal. Leveraging the vast potential of District 11, integrating culture, history, and opportunity, while embracing large-scale cultural events, will aid existing and new businesses through cooperative community planning and ultimately bringing new energy into our district.
