Meet the candidates, week 22: “What is the most neglected part of District 1 and what do you plan to do about it? Please name a specific area and a specific idea to redress the neglect.”

There isn't a single "most neglected area" in District 1, but several locations could benefit from attention, resources and activation.

Fulton and Arguello, part of the high-injury network, require urgent safety improvements. Balboa Street in the Inner Richmond suffers from vacant retail units that could be revitalized with the addition of housing. Geary Boulevard needs infrastructure upgrades and better pedestrian access. Bringing a Trader Joe's to the district would enhance local grocery options. Clement Street could benefit from more diverse retail options and improved public spaces. Additionally, Park Presidio Boulevard faces issues with graffiti that need to be addressed. I am committed to enhancing these areas to improve quality of life, safety, and opportunities for everyone.
