School Board Question 2: How will you balance budgetary constraints with improving the educational experience to keep families from leaving SFUSD?

I owned and operated a school for eight years and my priority was ensuring the parents were happy with their children's education.

If they were not happy, I found out why and did everything I could to remedy it.

I will do the same with our public schools, by holding in-person meetings, phone calls, or Web meetings with all the parents in our district.

I will identify the top three reasons parents remove their children from our schools and do everything in my power to fix them.

For example, if children are bored and not being challenged in the classroom, then I will work with their teachers to give them assignments and projects that do challenge them.

There is absolutely no reason for our children to not excel and receive the best possible educational experience.

This is simply a matter of communicating with parents and teachers and is not difficult or costly to implement. I did this successfully at my own school and will do it for SFUSD.
