SFMTA statement:

We made sure that all access to citation data was via authorized routes. SFMTA is transparent about our transportation data, and will continue to be. But when our staff's safety, and personal information of people who have received parking citations, is at risk, we must act on that swiftly.

The official way to access our parking citation data is via our public website on DataSF. Anyone is still able to see type of citation, date of issuance and data that can be mapped and analyzed on DataSF daily.
