

David Lee

Do you support the parcel tax on November's ballot to fund Muni? Why or why not?

I oppose the Muni Parcel Tax. We have to hold SFMTA accountable for their budget. SFMTA has neglected the Westside for many years. We have one of the worst public transit services in the city. And now you want us to bail you out? This is a hard no!

I'm all for public transit and I'm occasionally a Muni user – this parcel tax is not the solution. I believe we can find better solutions to save muni. We should be taxing the companies who are trying to kill off public transit like Waymo and Zoox — not San Francisco's residents.

This tax is about saving Muni for downtown. Let's be honest, the downtown transit lines aren't at risk of being cut, it's the smaller bus lines that go through our neighborhood that are the first to go. While I'm concerned about the elimination of the smaller lines, Sunset voters are not downtown's ATM machines.