

David Lee

Do you support the BUILD Act? Why or why not?

I strongly oppose the BUILD Act because it is a step backward for our housing progress. Right now, affordable housing projects across the city are struggling to break ground due to a lack of funding.

The BUILD Act would cut the city's transfer tax in half, slashing a vital revenue stream just to give a tax break to wealthy developers. San Francisco voters explicitly approved that transfer tax to invest in affordable housing. I personally supported and voted for Prop. I in Nov. 2020. I will honor the will of the voters and prioritize funding real affordable housing for our residents, not giving government handouts to corporate developers.