Did you support the school board recall in 2022? What's your view on merit-based admissions at Lowell High School?

I supported the 2022 school board recall. During COVID, SFUSD leadership focused too much on symbolic issues like school renaming while students, parents, and teachers struggled through extended distance learning.

Our family experienced this firsthand — my wife taught remotely, our girls learned from home for months, and I worked essential shifts at Other Avenues Food Store. That disconnect between leadership priorities and family reality was disqualifying.

I also support merit-based admissions at Lowell High School. Lowell has opened doors for generations of working and middle-class San Francisco families. Removing merit admissions didn't advance equity — it removed an important pathway for families who need it most.
