

Albert Chow

What is one piece of criticism that people often make about you that is not true or unfair?

One criticism I sometimes hear is that I don't have traditional government experience and therefore may not be prepared for this role. That is completely untrue. I have always been the No. 1 champion for the Sunset.

Unlike any of the other candidates, my resume shows a long list of delivering results for the Sunset. I helped create many of our most popular events. I stood with our community and led efforts to Recall Joel Engardio and restore the Great Highway compromise. I fought for merchants and residents on the L-taraval project and so much more. Through this work I have worked with our local government, advising city agencies and working closely with previous Supervisors.

I am constantly working to create a safer, more accessible, and thriving District 4. Not for political gain but because I love my community. I am the only candidate whose values always align with Sunset residents and the only candidate who can truly promise to always have the best interests for our neighborhoods.

Qualification for this job should not be determined by how many years you have spent behind a desk at City Hall. It should be determined by who will improve the lives of Sunset residents and keep our district and our city moving forward.
